

TODAY'S GENERAL COUNSEL INSTITUTE AND WOMEN IN EDISCOVERY
ANNOUNCE STRATEGIC ALLIANCE PARTNERSHIP
Forming a Collaborative Relationship at "The Exchange" eDiscovery
Houston and Los Angeles Forums

OCTOBER 17, 2017, CHICAGO, Today's General Counsel, the lead media publication for Today's General Counsel Institute's (TGCI) "The Exchange" event series, announced a strategic alliance partnership with Women in eDiscovery (WiE) for the eDiscovery "The Exchange" forums in Houston, Nov. 29-30, 2017 and Los Angeles, Dec. 5, 2017. Through "The Exchange" events' unique roundtable format, the partnership will promote thought leadership, active attendee participation, unique networking and regional outreach for WiE membership.

"We are thrilled to work with WiE," said Jennifer Coniglio, Vice President of Events, at Today's General Counsel Institute. "This partnership will allow current 'Exchange' attendees to realize the value of WiE organization by opening new doors of possibilities as well as increase awareness of 'The Exchange' unique format and merit."

"The WiE/TGCI Partnership works within our core values of providing quality educational opportunities to our membership," said Amy Juers, Executive Director of WiE. "We are pleased to be able to offer the chance to experience a unique event format to our members."

TGCI's "The Exchange" forums are a series of interactive roundtable discussions that provide attendees with actionable solutions to today's real business challenges. There are no PowerPoint presentations, just focused discussions led by a team of experts, following the agenda as an outline. To register for the events, please visit www.todaysgeneralcounsel.com/institute.

ABOUT TODAY'S GENERAL COUNSEL

Today's General Counsel is the only award-winning publication to address the information needs of all members of the C-Suite. We reach more in-house readers than any other legal publication. For additional information, please visit www.todaysgeneralcounsel.com.

ABOUT WOMEN IN EDISCOVERY

Women in eDiscovery (WiE) is a vibrant organization that provides educational opportunities regarding technology in the legal industry to its members. The organization offers networking and leadership avenues, promotes personal and professional growth of women, and donates mentoring and charitable contributions to its communities. WiE incorporates a broad network of women volunteers who uplift and support each other and work together to recognize and honor each other's achievements. WiE is comprised of professionals within the legal industry including attorneys, litigation support professionals, paralegals, legal IT staff, court reporters, consultants, recruiters and vendors.

Since its inception in 2007, Women in eDiscovery has grown globally to more than 5,000 members and 28 chapters. The Executive Board has appointed Regional Directors that work in conjunction with each member elected Chapter Board. For more information, please visit www.Womeninediscovery.org.

CONTACTS

Jennifer Coniglio
Vice President, Events
Today's General Counsel Institute
(917) 838-9101
Jconiglio@todaysgc.com

Vicki LaBrosse
National Director of Public Relations
Women in eDiscovery
(651) 552-7753
pr@womeinediscovery.org

